

Breathe Fire

Jarreau Vandal

I've been waitin' for the fire inside ya
To wake up, baby, here's a lighter
I'll take you higher
Breathe it in, like it is the only way
From the bottom of the garden
To down the city streets in London
I wanna draw back the curtains
But still the only words that you say

Are tellin' me my mixtape's slayin'
Just deep enough to keep me, girl
Treatin' me like a child playin'
Hide and seekin' in your world
Just wondering how to get under it all
Break down the pretense
Let the light shine out I'm ready, but you keep me waitin'
I'm ready, won't you meet me, girl?

I breathe fire
For you, but you're still not mine
Breathe fire
Still nothing beneath your eyes

And when you wake up in the morning
Stallin'
Am I the one that get's you started?
Your motivation
'Cause right now I don't know how you really feel
Yeah, give me something, something
Or all of this will keep me fallin'
Will you ever lay your cards down?
'Cause still, the only words that you say

Are tellin' me my mixtape's slayin'
Just deep enough to keep me, girl
I ready, but you keep me waitin'
I'm ready, won't you meet me, girl?

I breathe fire
For you, but you're still not mine
Breathe fire
Still nothing beneath your eyes

Breathe fire
For you, but you're still not mine
Breathe fire
Still nothing beneath your eyes

Height of the summer, you know, I've gotta go
'Cause I'm wastin' all my time for real
Just chasing your touch, babe
Just wanted to be your man
I've tried to let you know
Nothing's gettin' through

I breathe fire
For you, but you're still not mine

Breathe fire
Still nothing beneath your eyes

Breathe fire
For you, but you're still not mine
Breathe fire
Still nothing beneath your eyes
