

Hate The Swim, Love The Swimmer

Jarrold Alonge

Back in the undertow, I gasp for air once more
A ship still lost at sea, you'll never find me
Drowning in my fears, completely out of ideas
But if I can ride the wave, I'll ride again today

I can't breathe
The melody here's the same as the old one
Keep my head above water so I can sing this again

I beat my horse to death 'til there was nothing left
And though I've jumped the shark
I can jump it again and you'd pay to watch
I'm not that buoyant, but I've found employment
Contact the coast guard and tell them I'll be fine

I can't breathe
The melody here's the same as the old one
Keep my head above water so I can sing this again
These jokes crash upon you
Over and over, over and over
And I'm drowning in a stale meme, baby
Will you replay me

This is the part where you break some shit
How many times will you fall for it
I'll make some nautical references
And cash out harder than I ever did

Ughah
Ooh wa ah ah ah

Rinse and repeat
Needs more cowbell
More
Second time's a charm

I can't breathe
The melody here's the same as the old one
Keep my head above water so I can sing this again
These jokes crash upon you
Over and over, over and over
And I'm drowning in a stale meme, baby
Give me your money, bitch
