

Unbreakable

Jarrold Alonge

We gave it all, we're never looking back
Let's go!

I've lived another day
To follow the path set before me
I fight to carry on
My heart grows cold, but I will never fall

With bloodshot eyes
I see the light at the end of the road
I'm tired and broken, this trial awoken
The will to carry on

Hope to the hopeless, voice to the voiceless
Peace to the restless, home to the homeless
Pennies to the penniless, there's so much hope in the world
Just look inside and you'll find it

Set me free
I'll be remembered for what I've done for everyone
This means a lot to me, take it seriously
We sacrificed everything to be who we want to be

The world turned it's back on me
How could I ever be the man that I'm supposed to be?
Break it down, break these walls
I'm standing tall through it all
Don't act like you know what's best
Step away from me, I'm an adult

I'm so sick of watching you
Live a life without meaning, I'm calling you out!
Where will you stand when the walls come crashing down?
You have no hope, you don't believe, I'm calling you out!
Just find your way to the light that you find in the dark
Don't waste your life, you punk-ass bitch, I'm calling you out!
Oof! Wah! Huah! Ahh! Ooh! Wehh! Eyup! Sah!
Get me a cough drop!

Set me free
I'll be remembered for what I've done for everyone
This means a lot to me, take it seriously
We sacrificed everything to be who we want to be

Dear Mom
I'm writing you this letter to let you know
That I've found my path on the road less taken
And I won't be coming back, except to visit every now and then
Because you cook good food, and I miss you
I kinda need some money, perhaps 200 bucks
I can pay back, please!
I have feelings, blegh!
