

Am I Missing Something

Jarvis Cocker

The arrow knows nothing of its target
Tomorrow can take care of itself
Your children are here to tell you:
Do something new
(Do something new)
Or do something else

Searching
Searching for my sweet spot
A little to the left
A little to the right
Standing on the brink of extinction
Laughing all the way to the bank
Taking leave of earthly temptations
Yeah, right
This body's a temporary home
This body wants to take your body home

There are no stars without space
No inside without out
No up without down
Am I missing something?
Missing as in I don't see it?
Am I missing something?
Missing out on a secret?
Is there something that I lack?
Something going on behind my back?
The next stage in human evolution
Happening on the outskirts of Luton

It's a life or death situation
To the girl with the hair like spun gold
On the steps of the Underground station
Am I missing something?
(Am I missing something?)
Am I missing something?
(Am I missing something?)

I don't wanna dance with the Devil
But do you mind if I tap my foot?
Am I missing something?
Is it something good?

Missing something good
Missing something good

Missing something good
Missing something good

Missing something
Missing something
Missing something (good?)

Missing something
Missing something good

Waiting for my sponsorship deal

Waiting for flares to come back in again
In touch with the spirits of the depths
Aspiring to be where he is

Well, is there something that I lack?
Something going on behind my back?
Something going on somewhere that I can't see it?
Am I missing something?
Am I missing something?
Am I missing something?
