Let Myself Try

Jasmine Thompson

I'm gonna find and I'm not coming back
And all the white lies that I don't understand
All of these walls, well, they're starting to fall

I'm gonna try and I'm not gonna stop
I'll give all I have and I'll take what I've got
And if all of my dreams fall apart at the seams

It's alright 'cause in time I'll be fine
I'm gonna let myself, let myself
Fall once or twice, I won't mind
I'm gonna let myself, let myself
Fail and discover 'cause one way or another
I'll be fine, it's alright in this life
I'm gonna let myself, let myself

If I'm gonna love maybe I'm gonna lose
If I'm gonna touch maybe I'm gonna bruise
'Cause all of these scars, they're all that we are

It's alright 'cause in time I'll be fine
I'm gonna let myself, let myself
Fall once or twice, I won't mind
I'm gonna let myself, let myself
Fail and discover 'cause one way or another
I'll be fine, it's alright in this life
I'm gonna let myself, let myself

Who says perfect can't be little things, little things
I look at you and I see simplicity in front of me
And that's everything

It's alright 'cause in time I'll be fine
I'm gonna let myself, let myself
Fall once or twice, I won't mind
I'm gonna let myself, let myself
Fail and discover 'cause one way or another
I'll be fine, it's alright in this life
I'm gonna let myself, let myself try
