

I'll Wait

Jason Blaine

Strung along again by appeals to decency
Which on the killing fields seems so distasteful
It has been clearly said
You must adjust, there is no next time
There is no next time

Alright, I'll wait
I can wait all day
You are passed by
And you don't know why

It is so clear to me I simply cannot remain
I have been waiting for too long and then some
We have a surplus of contempt
But we have insufficient hate for an unforgiving place

Alright, I'll wait
I can wait all day
You are passed by
And you don't know why

Alright, I'll wait
I can wait all day
Decide, de-de-cide
See more, see see more
Alright, I'll wait