

If Love Was Enough

Jason Blaine

You'd have followed me to Tennessee
When I was begging you to go
Maybe I'd have changed my mind
And I'd have took that job back home
All I know is either way
I'd be holding you right now

If love was enough
Our hearts would still be close enough to touch
Maybe what we had would never come undone
If love was enough

In the middle of the night I close my eyes
And I pray the phone will ring
I pick up and get that rush
Just to hear you say my name
Nothing's changed, we're still us
Maybe that's how it would be

If love was enough
Our hearts would still be close enough to touch
Maybe what we had would never come undone
If love was enough

Oh you'd still be mine
No regrets, no goodbyes
But it hurts even worse cause
I know...

If love was enough
Our hearts would still be close enough to touch
Maybe what we had would never come undone
If love was enough
If love was enough
Oh if love was enough
