

That Close Again

Jason Blaine

What I'd give for one more chance
To hit rewind, go back in time for one more dance
Oh, I wouldn't wait or hesitate to let love in
If I ever get that close again

I would speak my heart, let it lead the way
Say all the words a woman needs a man to say
Oh, I'd pull her close and let her know like I should have then
If I ever get that close again

I could only hope somehow love comes back around
Like the one that I let slip right through my hands
If I live to see the day, I wouldn't let it slip away
If I ever get that close again

I could only hope somehow love comes back around
Like the one that I let slip right through my hands
If I live to see the day, I wouldn't let it slip away
If I ever get that close again
If I ever get that close again
