

Statue

Jason Chen

You shut down every time the champagne stops pouring
Like right now I've emptied out my heart but you ignore it
Somehow you're sitting next to me but you're not here, no
You shut down but I would rather you scream and shout, 'cause

Feel I'm talking to myself

How can silence be so loud
Every time I ask what you're faking
You freeze, don't move
I fell in love with a statue, with a statue
You freeze, don't move
I fell in love with a statue, with a statue

I don't care, tell me something even if it hurts me
I'm right here but if you keep it up then I might not be
I can't bear another moment trying to read your mind, oh
If you don't care then we should stop wasting time, 'cause

Feel I'm talking to myself

How can silence be so loud
Every time I ask what you're faking
You freeze, don't move
I fell in love with a statue, with a statue
You freeze, don't move
I fell in love with a statue, with a statue

(And it feels)

Feel I'm talking to myself

How can silence be so loud
Every time I ask what you're faking
You freeze, don't move
I fell in love with a statue, with a statue
You freeze, don't move
I fell in love with a statue, with a statue
Yeah, with a statue, with a statue
Ooh, with a statue, with a statue
