

Unconditional

Jason Chen

Every since I could talk I wanted to write you a song
Every since I could crawl I wanted run to your arms
Your the one that I love showed me just what it was
And that's why I love you the most

Sometimes you drive me crazy
But I don't know where I'd be without you
And all that I am you made me
I got your name on my heart like a tattoo

Taught me what it means to be a man
And in everything I do you are the perfect fan
Not all the love in the world is created equal
My love for you unconditional

Though we're ocean apart
You're never too far
Cause I'll always find my way there
Remember when you told me that
I could be anything even when I didn't care

Sometimes you drive me crazy
But I don't know where I'd be without you
And all that I am you made me
I got your name on my heart like a tattoo

Taught me what it means to be a man
And in everything I do you are the perfect fan
Not all the love in the world is created equal
My love for you unconditional

I'll make you proud
Sing in out loud
You give life meaning
The reason I'm breathing

Taught me what it means to be a man
And in everything I do you are the perfect fan
Not all the love in the world is created equal
My love for you unconditional

My love
For you is irreplaceable
My love
Is unconditional
