

We Are Late

Jason Chen

I told you yesterday, we gotta leave at 8
You promised yesterday, this time we would not be late
When will you be done with your face?
Whats the point you look the same?
You say your eyebrows are sisters, but need to be twins
You're changing your outfit again, what was wrong with the last 10?

Summer's gone, now fall is here
Shawty's still working on her hair
Leaves fall, it starts to snow
You're still not ready to go
Still saying please don't rush me
How are you somehow less ready?

You say 5 more minutes... This level of slay takes some extra time
I woke up from a 70 year coma, you're still drawing on your eyes
My hair turns to gray, waiting for you every single day
How much longer will you take? I've been ready since yesterday

Summer's gone, now fall is here
Shawty's still working on her hair
Leaves fall, it starts to snow
You're still not ready to go
Still saying please don't rush me
How are you somehow less ready?
