

Through The Night These Days

Jason Collett

Roll on over you clouds of doom
The silver lining is coming through
Just say yes, just say yes, just say yes
Quit giving up so soon
Our love will win what war will lose

Every little bit of light
Every little bit of light
Helps get us through the night

Time fled from the west
Under a crescent moon
Feel the rattled sunset
The stars came unglued and the sky fell in
And the smoke withdrew from these ashes

Every little bit of light
Every little bit of light
Helps get us through the night these days

Just say yes, just say yes, just say yes
Quit giving up so soon
Our love will win what war will lose

Every little bit of light
Every little bit of light
Helps get us through the night these days
