

POV

Jason Derulo

Woke up in my T-shirt, your hair is a mess
You might not believe me, but I like you best
Just like this
So gon' give me what's on your lips
(Babe, mm)

You see a reflection, but you must be blind
You look in the mirror, but don't love it quite Like I do, uh
Baby, I'm more than a proof

'Cause when I look at you, you
Baby, you're perfect from my point of view, ooh
Wish you could see you the way that I do
Don't you ever change, no matter what they say
I'm telling you the truth, yeah, ooh
Wish you could see you from my point of view

Yeah, make-up don't change you, you already fine
Baby, you're perfect without even trying to be
Don't take your love 'way from me
Baby, oh
Excuse me for staring, I can't help myself
You all I need, I don't find no one else
In this room
With you, I'm always in the mood

'Cause when I look at you, you
Baby, you're perfect from my point of view, ooh
Wish you could see you the way that I do
Don't you ever change, no matter what they say
I'm telling you the truth, uh, ooh
Wish you could see you from my point of view
Wish you could see you from my point of view
(Wish you could see you from my point of view)

And I know I'm a lot sometimes
But I can't believe you're mine
And you know what you're worth tonight
If you could you through my eyes

'Cause when I look at you, you (Ooh)
Baby, you're perfect from my point of view (View), ooh (Ooh, baby)
(Said I wish you)
Wish you could see you the way that I do (Do)
Don't you ever change, no matter what they say
I'm telling you the truth, uh, ooh
Wish you could see you from my point of view
Wish you could see you from my point of view
Wish you could see you from my point of view
