

A Moment I'll Remember

Jason Eady

Black and veiled on Tuesday morning running over Monday night
She starts walking I start thinking I can't let her get inside

Is this a moment I'll remember
Is this a moment I'll remember
Is this a moment I'll remember
When I'm down on my knees

I watch as the world goes by in stereo she glances back at me
In this moment we're forever, in this second right now we're free

Is this a moment I'll remember
Is this a moment I'll remember
Is this a moment I'll remember
When I'm down on my knees

She pulls the curtain open wider shadows hide the tears on her face
Fifteen years of growing up expose some hard decisions to make

Is this a moment I'll remember
Is this a moment I'll remember
Is this a moment I'll remember
When I'm down on my knees

Watching cars in busy streetlights my skin is old and faded from the years
We start walking I start thinking all the times I came so close to never being here

Is this a moment I'll remember
Is this a moment I'll remember
Is this a moment I'll remember
When I'm down on my knees

Is this a moment I'll remember
When I'm down on my knees
