

Back to Normal

Jason Eady

Back in the days before it all started
I was going my way like I'd always done
Now I'm looking around for my dearly departed
Wandering these streets like I'm all alone

What do we do when we get back to normal
When we find ourselves out in the world again
What do we do when we get back to normal
And we find we're somewhere we ain't ever been

I always believed the world had an answer
But now I think I've been thinking all wrong
The questions I had well I never really asked em
The truth is I don't want to know after all

What do we do when we get back to normal
When we find ourselves out in the world again
What do we do when we get back to normal
And we find we're somewhere we ain't ever been

We believe what we want to
See the photo in the frame
But all those things we hold onto
Can never be the same

Every day is a brand new beginning
Isn't that what all the sages say
So every night is brand new ending
Tomorrow can't be like yesterday

What do we do when we get back to normal
When we find ourselves out in the world again
What do we do when we get back to normal
And we find we're somewhere we ain't ever been
