

Drive

Jason Eady

Well somewhere between Jackson and Memphis
I knew I would let go of you
Well it took some time but I've come to my senses
And I'm looking for a lighter shade of blue

So I'll drive where you can't find me
Where those ol' winds don't call out your name
Where I don't see your face in the cold light of dawn
I roll steady down this road I'm on

Well somewhere between Hope and Amarillo
I found myself thinkin' of you
Well I'm comin' down like the rain on my window
That's just one more storm I'll get through

So I'll drive where you can't find me
Where those ol' winds don't call out your name
Where I don't see your face in the cold light of dawn
I roll steady down this road I'm on

Well somewhere between the desert and the ocean
I finally forgot about you
Well I ran out road and love and devotion
And I'm looking at a lighter shade of blue

So I'll drive where you can't find me
Where those ol' winds don't call out your name
Where I don't see your face in the cold light of dawn
I roll steady down this road I'm on

Where I don't see your face in the cold light of dawn
I roll steady down this road I'm on
