

Resurrection

Jason Gray

Knuckles white, you hold on tight
For far too long you've been hanging on Leave your past, right where it's at
Cuz every night gives way to dawn

I ain't be talking about death, no, no
I'm talking about life, yeah, yeah
Because of grace we're not who we were yesterday

I believe in resurrection
I believe in second chances
Love is just beginning
To rewrite the ending

I believe it's far from over
Even when it looks like hope is gone, gone, gone
I believe in resurrection
I believe in resurrection

There's still life
Beyond our sin
Where the dreams had died
Are born again

I'm telling myself
What I'm telling to you
I have to believe He's making
All things new

I ain't be talking about death, no, no
I'm talking about life, yeah, yeah
Because of grace we are more than our mistakes

I believe in resurrection
I believe in second chances
Love is just beginning
To rewrite the ending

I believe it's far from over
Even when it looks like hope is gone, gone, gone
I believe in resurrection
I believe in resurrection

You might be down
You might be out
You might be all alone
You might feel lost
But you're almost home

I ain't be talking about death, no, no
I'm talking about life, yeah, yeah
Because of grace we're breathing a brand new day

I believe in resurrection
I believe in second chances
Love is just beginning
To rewrite the ending

I believe it's far from over
I believe in resurrection
