

This Far

Jason Gray

The first time I heard You call my name
I saw the man that I could be
My life was like a gift that You gave to me
But now I'm haunted by the memory of A promise I thought I heard from You
And I'm not as sure of all the things I thought that I once knew

But I don't believe You brought me this far to give up
So everyday I keep on fighting for it
Show me again what I was made for
Help me to see
How You're moving me

It's hard for me to walk by faith
In the face of all that I can see
Sometimes I fear I'm just a fool for my belief
But then I feel You come and move in me
I hear You whisper in my ear
And for a moment I can see just how You brought me here

And I don't believe You brought me this far to give up
So everyday I keep on fighting for it
Show me again what I was made for
Help me believe
You're still moving me

With each passing glimpse of Your promise You're leading me on Don't let me falter now...

I don't believe You brought me this far to give up
So everyday I keep on fighting for it
Sometimes it's hard to tell if I'm faithful
Or a fool to believe
You're still moving me
But I don't believe You brought me this far to give up
So everyday I keep on fighting for it
Show me again what I was made for
Help me to see
How You're moving me
I still believe
'Cause You've carried me this far
