

What I Wish For You

Jason Gray

I hope your heart breaks easily
Cause you're not afraid to open it for all to see
It gets stronger every time it heals
So I hope you break your heart

And I hope you fall down hard enough
That you need the help of a good friend to get back up
We all want to know that kind of love
So I hope you fall down hard

That's what I wish for you
What I hope you find
May it all come true
In good time

And I hope that failure comes your way
And shows you there's a limit to your own strength
Til you can't help but offer other people grace
Yeah, I hope that failure comes

That's what I wish for you
What I hope you find
May it all come true
Knowing sometimes good things come from suffering
Yeah, sometimes good things come from suffering

And I hope you can forgive yourself
'Cause if you're like me you'll probably cause a lot of hell
Maybe one day you can add me to the list as well
Of what I hope you can forgive

That's what I wish for you
What I hope you find
May it all come true
Child of mine
