

Disco Sun

Jason Mraz

Your solar systematics
Guided how we all grow
The direction of the light show
Music has it
That same magnetic lasso
That draws us to the window
The view's fantastic
Everybody dancing to a disco sun
How romantic
That a light that seems so distant
Reaches everyone

Love is sowing
Love is growing
Love is showing up
Love is sowing
Love is growing
Love is showing up

Winter, Spring, Summer, too in love
Winter, Spring, Summer, too in love
Winter, Spring, Summer, too in love
Winter, Spring, Summer too

You can have it
Everything you need is in your own backyard
The shrooms are magic
Every precious weed knows who you are
And the message is massive
The reason they succeed is 'cause the seeds are so strong
And they're so psychoactive
But remember you're a flower
Turn your power on
Turn your power on

Love is sowing
Love is growing
Love is showing up
Love is sowing
Love is growing
Love is showing up

Winter, Spring, Summer, too in love
Winter, Spring, Summer, too in love
Winter, Spring, Summer, too in love
Winter, Spring, Summer too in love again

Can you watch it grow
Can you watch it grow
Can you watch it grow
Can you watch it grow

Show me how your garden grows
Is it kept or do you let it go
I know that's personal

But I want to know if it's edible
And plentiful and sensual
Mmm multidimensional
You blow my mind like I'm a dandelion in your meadow

It's only natural
You get down low like an animal
When you kiss the ground that you're walking on
It's a miracle to be here at all
It's a mystical magical rhythmical radical ride
Where we fall in love all the time

Winter, Spring, Summer, too in love
Winter, Spring, Summer, too in love
Winter, Spring, Summer, too in love

Can you watch it grow
