

Need

Jason Reeves

Honestly I was more stable
When I used to be able to
(Give you what you need)
And I lost me when I lost you cause
All I ever wanted to do was
(Give you what you need)

How'm I ever supposed to say I'm happy
If I'm never gonna make you smile
Cause for me our love was everlasting
But for you it was born to die
I remember sitting in the kitchen
On the night you never said goodbye
Tossin' bennies in my whiskey wishin'
But the well had already run dry

Honestly I was more stable
When I used to be able to
(Give you what you need)
And I lost me when I lost you cause
All I ever wanted to do was
(Give you what you need)

Now I'm turning memories to ashes
Blowing smoke rings in the dark
Making halos for the demons
Than surround me like falling stars
Has anybody ever told you the way you
Disappear's really hard?
And all the wreckage that I've had to go through's
Like a hurricane just hit my heart

Honestly I was more stable
When I used to be able to
(Give you what you need)
And I lost me when I lost you cause
All I ever wanted to do was
(Give you what you need)

Can't you see I was more stable
When I used to be able to
(Give you what you need)
And I lost me when I lost you cause
All I ever wanted to do was
(Give you what you need)
Damn

(Give you what you need)
(Give you what you need)
