

Then

Jason Webley

Where is that song tonight?
I need to hear.
Walked so far today.
Walked so far today.

I remember eyes so bright,
A voice strong and clear,
Feels so far away.
Feels so far away.

The sheets in this room are soft and warm,
My shoes are resting by the door,
But where is that song,
I heard here before?

At night I wake up, think I feel teeth tug,
At hair I hair I don't have anymore,
Now where is that song,
Where is that song.
Where is that song?
