

You've got so much to learn
Treating people that way, you're gonna get burned
What happened to you that made you so cold
You say you haven't changed, but I'm not sold

You think you've got it all worked out
But what you're working on is not what life's about
How could I be so naive
I'm done falling for the tricks hiding up your sleeves

You're a giant
You make me feel so small
If you keep holding me down, you won't be standing so tall
You think you're so smart, but you don't know me at all
You're a giant
But that means you got further to fall

You say I've got it all wrong
You can't imagine the reason I'd write this song
Now you tell me you're the one who's hurt
Just listen to yourself, that's so absurd

You're a giant
Trying to make me feel so small
If you keep holding me down, you won't be standing so tall
You think you're so smart, but you don't even know me at all
You're a giant
But that means you got further to fall

I said I'm not gonna worry
Because you don't deserve me anymore

You're a giant
Standing ten feet tall
You can't hold me down, can't make me feel small
I finally see that the problem was you all along
You're a giant
That means you got further to fall

I'm not gonna fall yeah (x3)

I'm not gonna fall yeah (x3)
