

Never Know

Javier Colon

Fifteen years not a word not a card not a single damn letter from you
And now you're here staring at a person that I can't recognize what am I gonna do
All this time I wrote down I wasn't messing around I knew what I would say to you
Time goes on it ain't gonna do us any good living in the past it's true so true

Funny how we change you wake up one day things are upside down yeah
See things different ways you don't react the same way you thought you would
You say you don't but you never know
You never know oh oh
You say won't but you never know
Oh you never know oh oh
You never know
Oh oh oh oh oh

Sticks and stones they get thrown but we all know that words make a cut so deep
So deep yeah
They used to hurt so bad I realized were the truth lies and I think it ever break me oh

Funny how we change you wake up one day things are upside down
See things different ways you don't react the same way you thought you would
You say you don't but you never know
You never know oh oh
You say won't but you never know
Oh you never know oh oh
If I could go back in time I would tell myself I'm going to be alright
People change people go things that matter don't matter anymore

You say you don't but you never never know
Yeah you never know know oh
You say you don't but you never never know
Yeah you never know oh
You say you don't but you never know you never know oh
You say you won't but you never know yeah you never know oh oh
You never know

Say you'll never fall again
Oh you never know
Say you won't forget again

Say that as this begins
You never know yeah
