

She's the One

Jay Ferguson

She dances on water
She moves with the wind
She stands in the falling rain
She knows when to begin
She stands in the storm
She walks through the fire
Her smile is the rainbow
Her voice is desire

How could you not want her?
How could you not love her?
How could you not want to live in her world?
She is the one

She waits in the storm
She walks in the fire
Her smile is the rainbow
Her voice is desire

How could you not want her?
How could you not love her?
How could you not want to live in her world?
She is the one
She is the one
She is the one
She is the one

She dances on water
She moves in the wind
She stands in the falling rain
She knows when to begin
She stands in the falling rain
She knows when to begin

How could you not want her?
How could you not love her?
How could you not want to live in her world?
She is the one
She is the one
She is the one
She is the one
She is the one
