

Colder

Jay-Jay Johanson

She said it's over
She said I want you no more
Over your shoulder
And out through that door
She's turning colder
And I'm growing unsure
Nobody told her
I've been through this before

Ever since the day
She said these words to me
I've had a hard time
Thinking logically
All I asked was
Why can't you please explain
For whatever reason
You left me in this pain

She said it's over
She said I want you no more
Over your shoulder
And out through that door
She's turning colder
And I'm growing unsure
Nobody told her
I've been through this before

I just can't stand you anymore
She said to me
I really did appreciate
Her honesty
But even though it's not
My habit to intrude
I'm gonna find out
Who's sleeping next to you

She said it's over
She said I want you no more

Ever since the day
She said these words to me
I've had a hard time
Thinking logically
All I asked was
Why can't you please explain
For whatever reason
You left me in this pain

She said it's over
She said I want you no more
Over your shoulder
And out through that door
She's turning colder
And I'm growing unsure
Nobody told her
I've been through this before
