

Guns and Roses

Jay Sean

Yeah..ooh..baby..ooh why..mmm..why

Why are those tears falling
Why do I hear 'em calling out my name, out my name
Look I know we both said some things
But we don't mean half of what we say, we say

Throwing these words like hand grenades
Up in the air and watch 'em rain
You got a way to drive me out my mind

That's when I turn it back at you
Fire away without a clue
Of how much is really hurting you

So baby go ahead and take your aim at me again
Cause I'm okay with war if love is how it ends
The way that you say sorry and put those lips on me
It ain't gon be picture perfect, but what it is
Is guns n roses, we're guns n roses

You can throw a bomb my way
For every time I make mistakes
But you know that'd never break what we built
And baby that makeup sex
Makes all of this pain worth it
So I'll fight with you over and over again

So baby go ahead and take your aim at me again
Cause I'm okay with war if love is how it ends
The way that you say sorry and put those lips on me
It ain't gon be picture perfect, but what it is
Is guns n roses, we're guns n roses

We've got a bleeding love
You are my deepest cut
And I believe in us
You should know

Cause every man will have his faults
Like every rose will have its thorns
If it don't hurt then we're not feeling love at all

So baby go ahead and take your aim at me again
Cause I'm okay with war if love is how it ends
The way that you say sorry and put those lips on me
It ain't gon be picture perfect, but what it is
Is guns n roses, we're guns n roses
Guns n roses, we're guns n roses
