

Booty Cheeks

Jay Webb

(Two-piece, somethin' 'bout you and me)
(Floatin' on the water 'til the sun goes down) Ohh
(Don't know what you do to me, shakin' them booty cheeks) Yeah
(On the pontoon with the radio loud)

Country girl in a two-piece, somethin' 'bout you and me
Floatin' on the water 'til the sun goes down
Don't know what you do to me, shakin' them booty cheeks
On the pontoon with the radio loud (Radio loud)
Sun shinin', beer on ice
Damn, what a hell of a time
Don't know what you do to me, shakin' them booty cheeks
On the pontoon with the radio loud

Got her feet up on the dash while we rollin' down the road
She said, "Baby, hit the gas, let me see if it'll go"
Got a cooler in the back with some beer ice-cold
And her fruity little drinks that she sippin' on slow (Oh yeah)
She fine as hell, little Southern Belle
Lookin' for a country boy to take her home
I might as well, I mean hell, some other man
Damn sure will if I don't

Country girl in a two-piece, somethin' 'bout you and me
Floatin' on the water 'til the sun goes down
Don't know what you do to me, shakin' them booty cheeks
On the pontoon with the radio loud (Radio loud)
Sun shinin', beer on ice
Damn, what a hell of a time
Don't know what you do to me, shakin' them booty cheeks
On the pontoon with the radio loud

Got the radio loud, turned up to ten
And, girl, you're lookin' so fine, you can bring your friends
If we get too hot, we can jump right in
To that clear blue water, no, it don't get better than this
Flyin' down a two-lane road
You're my shotgun rider, only one I want
Yeah, baby, we can take it slow
Or I can punch this gas to the floor

Country girl in a two-piece, somethin' 'bout you and me
