

Lighter

Jay Webb

Tonight I'm gonna need a lighter
Gonna need a 12-pack
Gonna need a call you up and tell me why you left chat
I'm in hell, so I inhale 'til I don't feel you're gone (feel you're gone)
Tonight I'm gonna need a lighter

Yeah, I've been burning down on a back road
But it don't make your memory fade though
So I just hide behind a cloud of smoke
Don't bother rolling down the window

I feel alone in a room full of people
Since you've been gone now my world feels evil
Like every step I take is wrong
Need help moving on, so tonight

Tonight I'm gonna need a lighter
Gonna need a 12-pack
Gonna need a call you up and tell me why you left chat
I'm in hell, so I inhale 'til I don't feel you're gone (feel you're gone)
one)

Tonight I'm gonna need a lighter
Gonna need a 12-pack
Gonna need somebody that picks up right where you left at
I can't tell if I'm in hell, or I'm just all alone (just all alone)
Tonight I'm gonna need a lighter

Tonight I'm lighting up, all of our memories
Everything that we got left of us (left of us)
If I get high enough
I'm hoping that I might forget just how it felt to touch (felt to touch)

Said you took a wrong turn
You don't plan on going back
Lined it up and shot down
Every single thing I thought we had
I watch it all burn 'til it fades black (fades black)

Tonight I'm gonna need a lighter
Gonna need a 12-pack
Gonna need a call you up and tell me why you left chat
I'm in hell, so I inhale 'til I don't feel you're gone (feel you're gone)
one)

Tonight I'm gonna need a lighter
Gonna need a 12-pack
I can't tell if I'm in hell, or I'm just all alone (just all alone)

Tonight I'm gonna need a lighter
