

Weed In The Back Yard

Jaya the Cat

just trying to get some weed in the backyard trying to get a fireplace with a pool just trying to work it on out just trying to get trough

1 2 1 2 am I making contact? cut trough the static independent broadcast keep the bar open keep the lights on cause we aint leaving till the morning comes hey dj i'm still awake don't shut down the music yet cause i'm broke i got no place to go i need something to channel my madness trough and walk away clean in the morning light when they run the bulls i just step aside twist the cap collect my mind if you don't have a plan you lose the battle everytime

man i'm feeling like a 30 pack in the snow 1 million miles away from the sorrows of the day to day they just fade away and leave me standing here feeling like the first beer of a new day i guess i don't need much cause all the little things they just add up and you know this life can be dangerous straight out your door man dangerous born and raised on the south shore of boston just another drunk agnostic getting baked backstage before soundcheck in a world of guilt to try to maintain my innocence time passes but i ain't changing going out the same way i came in face it the system loves complacence so every change i get i br eak shit
