

Won't Cry

Jaya

You know this isn't how we intended it to be
I should have not believed the promises you've said to me
You're a liar now I know the truth it's hurting me
I knew it, but still my heart is loving you, you see
But even though I try so hard I just cannot let go
I feel your touch and kisses hauntin' me, I can't control
I know it's never easy separating you from me
We should have never just pursued if it would end like this

Since you left they say I've lost this game
There's no use if I would blame you
You're so untrue
You left me cryin', oh baby
Now I've known that what you are is fake
Oh, this is just too much, too late
No more, I'm not gonna shed my tears
Cry, won't cry

You know this isn't how we intended it to be
Why you trippin' dare you play me with me emotionally
I've given you my all until there's nothing left of me
So empty, and you gave no nothing back to fill me
I wanna move on, I wanna let go, want to forget it all
No you can't play me, I'm gonna be free and I will never fall
Though I feel so down, wanna breakdown
Somebody's gonna hear my call
Oh oh, I can get through it all

Since you left they say I've lost this game
There's no use if I would blame you
You're so untrue
You left me cryin', oh baby
Now I've known that what you are is fake
Oh, this is just too much, too late
No more, I'm not gonna shed my tears
Cry, won't cry

Since you left they say I've lost this game
There's no use if I would blame you
You're so untrue
You left me cryin', oh baby
Now I've known that what you are is fake
Oh, this is just too much, too late
No more, I'm not gonna shed my tears
Cry, won't cry

Baby can you tell me what I did wrong
Or the reason why I need to sing this song
You know the I would never lead you on I even got your name witten on my arm
On my chest in my heart
I know I loved you from the start
Can you try to imagine that there could never be a margine that could separa te the both of us not to mention the passion
Lights cameras flashin all of these cash and girls they don't mean nothin
Why do you have to leave still cannot believe that nobody can give you the l ove you just recieved

With each and every single pain
I never thought that your makin me play your game
Even though I'm the one to blame
Know that my love for you still remains the same

Since you left they say I've lost this game
There's no use if I would blame you
You're so untrue
You left me cryin', oh baby
Now I've known that what you are is fake
Oh, this is just too much, too late
No more, I'm not gonna shed my tears
Cry, won't cry
