

Misheard Runaways

Jayden Bartels

A mix of words in my mouth
Just waiting to come out
But my tongue will get tied
And I know I'll fail so why even try
I try to speak but it comes out the wrong way
And nobody hears what I have to say, anyway
And all of my words just go to waste
And all of this makes me want to run away, today
With you

Oh, we'll be the misheard runaways
Oh, no one has to understand us anyway

I know you're just like me
Cause you don't even try to speak
You sit quietly
With so many words hidden deep
But I can hear you from miles away
And I know what you're trying to say
I know it's hard to communicate
But there's no need to hide away, today
Lets run away

Oh, we'll be the misheard runaways
Oh, no one has to understand us anyway
Oh, we'll be the misheard runaways
Oh, no one has to understand us anyway