

Song for Paul

Jaymay

Could you remove the light from the room, dear one?
I have no yearn, for this life is no longer fun

I rollercoaster through the nightmare
I rollercoaster through the nightmare ride

Find me on the floor
Father, I know I do not adore
How well do I know you going through my drawer?

I rollercoaster through the nightmare
I rollercoaster through the nightmare ride

Sail away lonely-hearted creature of the sea
You were born so forlorn and nothing like the rest of us
(You're just like the rest of us)

Laugh all you want, let the organ woman cry
She's gonna do all the talkin' to you, not I

I rollercoaster through the nightmare
I rollercoaster through the nightmare ride

Sail away lonely-hearted creature of the sea
You were born so forlorn and nothing like the rest of us
(You're just like the rest of us)

Could you make all the cloud surround me tight?
And once again, could you please turn out the light?
