

B4 The Flight

Jazmin Bean

Would you hold me on the flight home?
Tell me everything will go my way, nothing could ever go wrong
And then call me when I get home
Smothering, killing for a lifelong
I'm missing much, I'm losing touch
I'm teething everywhere until the bone (so call me when you get home)

I look to you to keep me warm and
I'm so cold and my skin's cold and
Now it gets so hard to breathe
I'm missing days, I'm losing sleep
I know you know I'd run, I'd crawl, I feel too much
I've broken bones (so call me when you're home, please call me when you're home)
So call me when you're home, I cannot bare to be alone, I)

Cry back, just call the cab
Lungs trapped, and if I'm not the special one
Then why was I one at all?

My nurturing, it paces me from side to side
My heart is like a bison, it's so strong in size
(I crave, I cry, I watch the days pass by)
Thought I could show you how
(And everything is different now)

I look to you to keep me warm and
I'm so cold and my skin's cold and
Now it gets so hard to breathe
I'm missing days, I'm losing sleep
I know you know I'd run, I'd crawl, I feel too much
I've broken bones (so call me when you're home)
(Please call me when you're home, oh)
(Call me when you're home, I cannot bare to be alone, I)

Cry back, just call the cab
Yeah, you don't even know have I've been feeling for you, love
Used to be enough, this is not and I have
Lungs trapped, and If I'm not the special one
(Yeah, you don't even know have I've been feeling for you, love)
Then why was I one at all?
(Crying on the plane, this is not the same)

Yeah, you don't even know have I've been feeling for you, love
Used to be enough, this is not enough
(Yeah, you don't even know)
Yeah, you don't even know have I've been feeling for you, love
Crying on the plane, this is not the same

I'm choking on my airplane food
It's all spilling right out for you
I'm gonna spill it until I turn blue for you, baby
It's all for you, baby
I'm choking on my airplane food
It's all spilling right out for you
I'm gonna spill it until I turn blue for you, baby
It is all for you, baby
