

Terrified

Jazmin Bean

Oh, my darling I can't find the words to say
You scare the shit out of me everyday
With blushing cheeks and eyes so circle wide
How divine
I find that something's changing in my tone
And all I want to do is run back home
To you
It's you

And I'm terrified, stream running down my leg in sunshine
And I want to tell you how I think you're oh-so sublime
When I have you to myself but it's not easy as pie
But to say I'm not terrified would be a big fucking lie

And I'm scowling at the sun while you're fishing out my smile
And I'll hold you for forever, would be all worth the while
I've been killed before but maybe, just maybe it's this time
I could live without being terrified all the fucking time

(Ahhh)

Oh my angel, your wings wrap around my neck
It's so hard to find the grace for me to let
My wounded spirit accept hands so warm
Hearts adorned
And the stars are breathing in to brush my hair
You showed me what it is like to feel care
What it's like to feel care

And I'm terrified, stream running down my leg in sunshine
And I want to tell you how I think you're oh-so sublime
When I have you to myself but it's not easy as pie
But to say I'm not terrified would be a big fucking lie

And to hold you for forever, would be all worth the while
I've been killed before but maybe, just maybe it's this time
I could live without being terrified all the fucking time

(T-t-t-t-t-terrified, t-t-t-t-t-terrified) I'm terrified
(T-t-t-t-t-terrified, t-t-t-t-t-terrified) Feeling alive
(T-t-t-t-t-terrified, t-t-t-t-t-terrified)
I'm terrified
Terrified
