

Sirens sound
And the rain coming down
On my head
Blaming a town
That has left me down
And I breathe again

Does anybody care where I've been
Where I seem to go now
Does anybody care
Anymore

And if I could fly
Then I would fly
Away from here
Away from all these things
And if I would rise
Then I would fly
Away from all the things I fear
Tell me, where should I go
Can anyone show me how,
How I can fly away from here

When this temptation
Turns into my only friend
Looking for someone
To help me start over again

Does anybody care where I've been
Where I seem to go now
Does anybody care
Anymore

And if I could fly
Then I would fly
Away from here
Away from all these things
And if I could rise
Then I would fly
Away from all the things I fear
Tell me, where should I go
Can anyone show me how,
How I can fly away from here

Come with me
I don't want to leave you
Here alone
And I see, I see a better place
And we could end this thing
Change this life
I can't stay for one more moment
Leave with me tonight

And if I could fly
Then I would fly
Away from here
Away from all these things

And if I would rise
Then I would fly
Away from all the things I fear
Tell me, where should I go
Can anyone show me how,
How I can fly away from here

Away from all these things
I would fly
Fly
Away from all these things
I would fly
Fly
