Believer

Jazzanova

I can see the red light, now the machines are the only one through...
I can see the red light, now the machines are the only one through...

Worthing for long ago,
I had given up all my hope
Convinced that love was a game for fools
People just changing up all the rules

Kept my heart on the lock and key
Seem like the safest place to be
Then you step to me out on the fly
I saw the future in your eyes

Once I'll sense my pain, I'll hurt my ...
Like an angel sent straight here to me
And I hope and pray ever day
I will always feel this way

Now my karma must have ... check
You're much much more than I've expect
From a world...full of disease
You took the long run for me

I'll tell the world I'll tell my friends
Never give up on love again
Sometimes it's there in front of you

But all you see is a small...room
So take a chance and step on in
You wanna no tell you begin
So put your face on higher ground
Where love and lost there can't be found

Girl yea, girl yeah, oh yeah

You make me, and you make me
You make me, and you make me
Make me a believer, make me a believer
You make me, and you make me
You make me, and you make me
Make me a believer, make me a believer

I can see the red light, now the machines are the only one through...
I can see the red light, now the machines are the only one through...

Makes me wanna clap my hands
Come on, come on

You make me, and you make me
You make me, and you make me
Make me a believer, make me a believer
You make me, and you make me
You make me, and you make me
Make me a believer, make me a believer.
