

Breaking

JC Stewart

I've been waiting
Savouring the words I would say
The second that I see your face
Pulling your car up to the driveway

I've been aching
'Cause, every time I go to the door
I don't know what I'd go there for Yeah, there's no one there, it's just another day

Where I keep breaking
Where I keep breaking
Where I keep breaking my own heart

Your jumper
Still lying on the edge of the bed
Silently reminding me of all the things I wish that I'd said

I keep on breaking
I keep on breaking
I keep on breaking my own heart
I keep on breaking
I keep on breaking
I keep on breaking my own heart

And, woah-oh, here is my confession
I was obsessed with the story of us
Till I ran out of ideas, darling, you ran out of love
So, I'll stop waiting
It's clear to see you're not coming home
I guess you wanna be on your own
As for me

I'll be here breaking
Yeah, I'll be breaking
Yeah, I'll be breaking my own heart
I'll keep on breaking
I'll keep on breaking
I'll keep on breaking my own heart

I'll keep on breaking my own heart
I'll keep on breaking my own heart
