

Lying That You Love Me

JC Stewart

I don't need you anymore
I tell myself
I'm turning pages, tryna find the Chapter's end

'Cause I was too in love with your flaws
Saw the signs, missed 'em all
Maybe I was under your spell
You shot us down, started war
Killed us off, wanted more
Said I'd never need you again
I said I'd never need you again

But I miss you
Lying that you love me
And I miss you
Saying that you're sorry
I know that I'm better off alone
And maybe I'm a fool 'cause I can't let go
I miss you
Lying that you love me

But won't you say it again
And again and again

I don't need to call you
Anymore, they said
I'm tryna fill the empty space with Anything else

'Cause I was too in love with your flaws
Saw the signs, missed 'em all
Maybe I was under your spell
Oh, you shot us down, started war
Killed us off, wanted more
Said I'd never need you again
I said I'd never need you again

But I miss you
Lying that you love me
And I miss you
Saying that you're sorry
And oh, 'cause I know that I'm better off alone
And maybe I'm a fool 'cause I can't let go
I miss you
Lying that you love me

But won't you say it again
And again and again
And again and again and again

I was too in love with your flaws
Saw the signs, missed 'em all
Maybe I was under your spell
You shot us down, started war
Said I'd never need you again

I said I'd never need you again

But I miss you
Lying that you love me
And I miss you
'Cause I know that I'm better off alone
And maybe I'm a fool 'cause I can't let go
I miss you
Lying that you love me

So won't you say it again and again
Lying that you love me, oh
And again and again
Lying that you love me
