

The Wrong Ones

JC Stewart

Yeah, yeah, yeah

And to the one that I call
Just to help me forget
Says all the right things
But they mean nothing yet
And I know that we say
It's a means to an end
I still feel lonely
So tell me why

Why do I just keep
Falling for the wrong ones?
Is it you or me?
Does no one else feel right, right, right?
Why do I just keep
Falling for the wrong ones?
Is it you or is it me?
Or does no one else fit by my side?
I'm falling for the wrong ones

To the one always asking
For a room with a view
Only here for the drinks
But she swears that it's you
Or the one who's just trying
To get back at her ex, yeah
But she told me no games
But she played me the best

And I keep diving deeper
But I never see it
There's 8 billion people
So tell me why

Why do I just keep
Falling for the wrong ones?
Is it you or me?
Does no one else feel right, right, right?
Why do I just keep
Falling for the wrong ones?
Is it you or is it me?
Or does no one else fit by my side?

Every night I don't get no sleep
Then I wonder what the problems with me
Oh, every night I don't get no sleep
Oh why? Why? Oh, why?

Yeah, every night I don't get no sleep
Then I wonder what the problems with me
I wonder what the problems with me
Oh, why? Why? Oh, why?

Why do I just keep
Falling for the wrong ones?
Is it you or me?

Why do I just keep
Falling for the wrong ones?
Is it you or is it me?
Or does no one else fit by my side?

Why do I just keep
Falling for the wrong ones?
Falling for the wrong ones
