

Surrender

Jeangu Macrooy

My confidence is wearing thin
Counting the flaws upon my skin
Gotta lead these vultures to where the river runs
It's time to drown them one by one

I'm ready to trust again
I'm ready to begin again
I'm ready to believe again
I'm ready to surrender

Wasting my tears on faded pictures
These memories are sweet and bitter
I take a breath and count to ten
Some days all I do is pretend

I'm ready to trust again
I'm ready to begin again
I'm ready to believe again
I'm ready to surrender

Remember how we used to dance
To the melodies of a bright and happy future
I know that we cannot go back
But the melodies play on; in my head

I'm ready to trust again
I'm ready to begin again
I'm ready to believe again

I'm ready to trust again
I'm ready to begin again
I'm ready to believe again
I'm ready to surrender
