

Mind Vs Heart

Jeff Bernat

Promised I'll keep this in my head
Picture every single time I tried
To turn away from the thoughts I want to forget
But I go around and change my mind again
So tell me what can I do
To have me completely focused on this?
Cause I'm stranded here wonderin'
If all this time invested is worth it?
I don't want to play these games

My mind and heart cannot compromise
At the same time one tell me
That "I have had enough"
But the other one says that

Why do I keep coming back for more?
See I don't know, I don't know
Still debatin' if I should open the door
Should I go? Should I go?

So tell me what can I do
To have me completely focused on this?
Cause I'm stranded here wonderin'
If all this time invested is worth it?
I'm so tired of playin' games

My mind and heart cannot compromise
At the same time one tells me
That "I have had enough"
While the other one says
No more playing games and
No more playing names
And no more turning back

I'm tired of playing games
And I'm tired of playing names
But how can I not turn that kiss
If my heart tells me to stay?

My mind and heart cannot compromise
At the same time one tells me
That "I have had enough"
While the other one says

My mind and heart cannot compromise
At the same time one tells me
That "I have had enough"
While the other one says