

All In Good Time

Jeff Black

The sky will stop falling
And the sun will finally show
The baby will stop balling
And I'll get back my soul
The war will be over
And the new day will come in blind
All in good time

I will take your hand
No pretending no protest
Shake there in the passing
Of your strange and faithful kiss
When the revelation finds me
Out cold from freedom's bind
All in good time

This all will prove out
Wait for the sound
It's taking me over the line
Try to stop a train
This game is making me tired
Cold water on my face
I think this place is on fire
It's a fine line marie between
Dreaming and dying
I sit here in the corner
Of my sad sad little room
I see your ghost, I hear you hum your little tune
Do you believe in visions marie
Oh I believe in mine
All in good time
The crowd will fall out
In a big surprise applause
We will take our bows
And bruises for the cause
We'll never let a moment pass
Or a sunny day go by
All in good time
