

This Is The One

Jeff Bridges

It's morning, the sun's not up yet
I am, well, I'm still in my bed
Next to me is my wife, there she lies
Her beauty's no disguise
It's dawn
Another day to chance to go on
Dreams just left my mind, I raise the blinds
There's thunder on the hill
My god

And this is the one
This is the one
This is the one
If it's not, don't you think it oughta be?

Honey, honey, wake up
Honey, wake up

Oh, look what I just thought
Don't you think the bed's not where it ought to be?
I love you, baby
Oh, and I love this life
Since you're my wife
I thought I'd wake you up so we could watch the sunrise
And tell you

This is the one
This is the one
This is the one
If it's not, don't you think it oughta be?

Yeah, baby, you're the one
And I'm so glad it's true
Oh, this is the one
It's good to never be done
Ah, you and me, baby
We do it so easily
Yeah, you and me, baby
Oh, we take the bitter with the sweet
Oh, you and me, baby
We're running for so long
I'm finally ready to admit it, baby, that
This is the one, yeah
This is the one
This is the one
This is the one
