

Things are Better in the East

Jefferson Airplane

You once asked me what I wanted out of life Well, I guess its just the life time of laughter and smiles to be the Cinderella Man for a while but there's so many miles that I've got to go

You once asked me what I wanted out of life Well, I guess its just the quiet ride of a life when you love me just right with brightness so dazzling my head must turn

You know my head must turn

You once asked me what I wanted out of life Well, I guess its just that chance to sit and watch it all go by never have an answer and I'll never know why but at the end of it all will I be satisfied I dont know

I dont know
