

Rock You Tender

Jehro

I'm gonna rock you child
I'm gonna rock you tender
I'll sing a song of mine
Will make you feel so tender
I hold you tight and keep my fears at bay

When I was just a child
My life was not so tender
They wouldn't sing to me
And though I still remember
Hard times that I've been through
Are not for you

There's folks and books that say
That all the sins of the father
Can never be washed away
Will haunt his sons and daughters
But now I know they're wrong
You make me strong

So many fears inside
No matter how I tried
Cold eyes of tempered steel
Will always be remembered
But you have helped me find
My peace of mind

I wonder at my love
And every day I crave
This trusting light I see in your tender face
You're the only grace I've found
You're the only grace I've found
