

The Millenium Express

Jelani Aryeh

Tunnel
Through my life with muddled
Moving sights, my brother
Needs a light in other
States of mind

Sweet scent straight from Nepal
I spent those days withdrawn in my ways
A modest mistake, I don't Think that I'm better off
Somewhere the weather watched
As my face grew long with the rain

What's the real importance?
Losing every single portion
Miss my elementary mornings
Happens all without a warning

Minute
One speck
Watching the buildings blur
From the window to my left
Cadet
Move at a million miles
Millennium express

The way you feel, see
From your chest
Comes every real thing
Looking west, I left a good thing
Know she's best without my brooding

Sweet scent stray in my thoughts
We spent those days in August away
In solace, you'd say
In love and so involved
One kiss and I would dissolve into space
I'm all in a haze

Minute
One speck
Watching the buildings blur
From the window to my left
Cadet
Move at a million miles
Millennium express

The way you feel
From your chest comes every real thing
Looking west, I left a good thing
Know she's best without my brooding

Minute
One speck
Cadet

Move at a million miles
Millennium express
