

Kill A Man

Jelly Roll

I thought that night in Vegas
The drink I was drinkin' would finally take me
I thought I wouldn't make it
That my demons would find me with blue lights behind me

Thought my time was up more than a time or two
The end of me begins with you

Somethin' 'bout you has always been dangerous
I should run, but here I stand
You're the one thing Heaven can't save me from
And I'm far past my last chance
I was bullet proof, but baby, lovin' you could kill a man

Well, I'll go into the darkness
We can take the unknown, make it feel like it's home
And you know I'll be here regardless
Baby, you got my soul, so to hell with the poems

Thought my time was up more than a time or two
But the end of me, it begins with you

Somethin' 'bout you has always been dangerous
I should run, but here I stand
You're the one thing Heaven can't save me from
And I'm far past my last chance
I was bullet proof, but baby, lovin' you could kill a man

Thought my time was up more than a time or two
But the end of me begins with you

Somethin' 'bout you has always been dangerous
I should run, but here I stand
You're the one thing Heaven can't save me from
And I'm far past my last chance
I was bullet proof, but baby, lovin' you could kill a man

Yes, it could, lovin' you could kill a man
