

Inside

Jennifer Knapp

I know they'll bury me
Before they hear the whole story
Even if they do
I know they won't care to
Chalk it up to one mistake
Oh God forbid they give me grace
Well, who in the hell do they think they are?

Oh, I'm the one who keeps it on the inside
Locked away from judgments wrong
Oh, I'm the one who keeps it on the inside
So they leave me alone, leave me alone

Each and every revolution
Starts at least with one illusion
You and I can be the same
Of one small mind
Do this and don't do that
Which you think you can't take back
Well who in the hell do you think you are?

Oh, I'm the one who keeps it on the inside
Locked away from judgments wrong
Oh, I'm the one who keeps it on the inside
So they leave me alone, leave me alone

I know they'll bury me
I know they'll bury me
I know they'll bury me
Ohhhâ
