Can't You See

Jeremy Camp

If He knows every sparrow That falls from above Then how much more will He give you and I his love To be called into His Hand And been given all you have

A hope that is eternal And a future we can grab

And all that i can see Is what His love has done for me

Can't you see what it means to be The child of One who set you free Can't you see what it means to be The child of One who delivered me

You want to have a Purpose just like everyone You'll be a slave to the world's Choices and not to His Son The thought if being called Out by our very own name It's better than all the glory and Better than all the fame

And all that I can see Is what His love has done for me
